The horse was not going rapidly at the time the buggy was overturned. Mrs. Eaton's forehead was cut and her chin abraded and, striking on her head, she was rendered unconscious for half an hour. No bones were broken and no serious contusions, and the physicians said it would take time to determine whether the shock to her nervous system was serious. Her friends don't feel apprehensive.

delphia, went suddenly insane at the The Republicans Preparing for Good Work Wednesday-Interest in the Walker Case.

Special correspondence of THE REPUBLICAN.

Tucson, Ariz., April 26, 1891. The Pima County Democratic Convention assembled in the Court House here today. The attendance from the outside was fair and considerable enthusiasm was manifested during the session. It was apparent to observers that harmony prevailed, and that the Democrats were very much in earnest in the matter of electing the nominees of their convention. Some little feeling originally existed about the selection of the ticket to be voted for at the primaries, as names that had been agreed upon were stricken out at the last moment through the threats of a "sometimes" Democrat, who declared his personal hostility in one case, and caused the name of an influential Democrat to be stricken from the agreed upon list. The discovery of this act of personal malice was made too late to change the net to its original condition, but a very strong feering exists among certain old time Democrats against the individual who usurped to himself the power to act upon matters affecting the entire Democratic party. This teeling, however, was not allowed to show on the surface in the convention and it has resulted in the Democrate bringing to the front a comparatively strong ticket in the persons of ex-Judge Williams H. Barnes, ex-United States District Attorney O.

O. T. Rouse and ex-County District Attorney Frank Hereford. Last night a grand ratification meet-ing was held under the auspices of the Democratic Central Committee on the Churen Plaza, Good music and fair promises were the features of this effort on the part of the Democrats to create a crats mean a hard and bitterly contested night, and it behooves the Republicans to put on their war paint and make a solid front.

The best of feeling exists among the Republicans of Pima County, and they feel confident of victory, though they appreciate the fact that they have a man's work to do. The fact that the Republicans elected their Sheriff and gave a Republican majority for the Regress, points to a repetition of that success, and a teeling prevails in the rank and file that the three Republican nominees of next Wednesday's convention will be elected by handsome majorities. Much canvassing as to canditates is going on, and the prevailing sentiment at present seems to be that the best interests of this county will be subserved by the nomination of practical business and Banquet at Delmonico's Attended by men, having an intimate knowledge of Many Notable Men—Americus Club at Territorial affairs, and the exigencies of the occasion rather than lawyers. It is a sad comment on the intelligence and ability of the Democratic party at large that the Democratic Convention considered the honorable positions exclusively for lawyers, entirely shutting out the layman, and it is already being commented upon by visitors in Tucson from the outside precincts that Tucson should monopolize the entire delegation, not even allowing the county at large a silence, the gentlemen present all stood up and greeted with applause Mrs. asked. "Is all the constitutional brain Grant, who was in the gallery. She was power centred in the city of Tucson, and nave the outside constituency no rights ?"

It is safe to say that the Republican County Convention will not repeat the mistakes made by the Democrats, but will with one accord act intelligently in resent all classes and all sections of Pima county. Such a ticket will at-tract the favorable attention of the outside precincts and poll many an independent Democratic vote. The Walker case is attracting great attention in Tucson. The luminary of the Star has particularly interested himsell in John D. Walker and his bride, who are reported to be at his house, while the brothers in person represent heir side of the case. A great deal of litigation will be the eventual outcome of these troubles as a very large estate s at stake. The Star the other day published a column about the wickedness of the brothers asking the question whether the public thought the brothers would take such an interest in John D. Walker if it was not for his money, while the brothers cannot understand the interest of a stranger. It is a sad comment on the end of man, that this controversy should be the outcome of the life of a man who has been financially successful in the past in his business operations.

It seems from the special dispatches o the San Francisco papers that Mr. R. J. Hartman, of the Accountant Division of the General Land Office, the fresh young man who was sent out from Washington to manipulate the Fred Smith case, has been discharged from further ciovernment service. The people who came in contact with this young man in Arizona are not surprised that he has been relieved from further service, but it is a matter of surprise that such a fresh specimen ever crept into the land office at all. Nothing short of civil service rules could be responsible for such a miscarriage of propriety.

This man Hartman made two trips to Arizona in connection with the Smith case and unquestionably handicapped the Government case by gross misman agement. He was not calculated to shine as a government agent, and was easily misled as to his own importance.
